A letter from the Crimea tells the follow ing tale:- " Vultures are very numerous in the Crimes. They smell the powder and await the coming of the fight to throw themselves on their victims. After one of the recent combats, an English officer was found on the buttle field, who had just expired pressing in both arms one of these birds of prey, dead like himself, and which he had crushed in a last effort of agony."

The Glory of the Triumph.

It was proper indeed that after sharing the dangers and sacrifices of this war, the two people of course, be required to find sentain Porliashould equally take part in the glory of the triumph. From the commencement of the contest, France and England, united in the strict community of views and efforts, have felt a kind of emulation in furnishing, each according to her resources, the means of ensuring success. The enemy has seen his ships blockaded or burnt his barbor, his sea-board ravaged, his commerce annihilated, his foreign relations destroyed .-From the Sea of Azoff to the White Sea, from the Baltic to Kamschatka, Russia is imprisoned by our fleets. While the courage of our soldiers were triumphing over the desperate resistance of the Russian army, and combined squadrons were destroying his stores of provisions, and intercepting his communications, at the very time that they were maintaining abundance in the allied armies and conveying to them every fresh reinforcements.

Our maritime resources would hardly have sufficed for the transport of our troops and enormous quantity of munitions required for such a war, at a distance of 800 leagues from our country. The English Admiralty placed at the disposal of France 50 vessels of her royal and merchant service, in which we have conveyed to the Crimea more than 40,000 men of our troops, together with 2,000 horses, and 700 tons of our material. Every one knows if besides that Bomarsund fell beneath the blows of our soldiers, it was chiefly the English navy that conveyed them thither. In all the phases of this war, at the Alma and at Inkermann, as at Bomarsund, and Sweaborg, the armies and crew of England and France have mingle their blood and fought with bravery for the common cause. At the Tchernaya our allies hastened up to support us, as we hastened towards them at Balaklava. In the last one victorious efforts against

If out of sereral points attacked one only was conquered at first, the triumph was not the less on that account due to all the corps of the allied army, which, mutually supporting each other and dividing the resistance of the enemy, compelled him at once to abandon the walls of the city which his very despair could not longer defend. Therefore the General in Chief of the French army has been mere just when he assthe glory in the success of that day.

There are many too that believe that fails, penitentiaries, Lunatic Asylums, &c. as soon as that law is obtained, they can and stated that from authentic sources it had quietly take their ease-imagine the law of itself capable of working wonders. This is a grand mistake. On the other side of the lines, at the present time, in those States where tween the temperance people and the Rum interests is now being waged. In many of the States the friends of the law thought that the beginning. He believed that if we in Canada had the Law, and then let the Public Speakers, the Lecturers, the Almisters cease their exertions it would be of little avail. Temparancemen should stand by their colors; and by so doing ere long Canada might boast of a Maine Law. (Cheers.) Some looked at the Maige Law as an old Truth, -so were the Scriptures. They had been preached 1.800 years; but the people of this day listened to their promulgation with the same fervor they did then, and they inspire now the same lively joy they did then. The Maine Law simply meant the closing up of distilleries, &c. It die not hinder the manufacture for all ordinary purposes. The measure was a bold one, and we should carefully examine i ita its merits before forming a conclusion: it demanded the closing up of the various places where alcokol was now manufactured. Probibition however, was no new thing; for just the proportion, as society developed itself, prohibition was urged. Man might be regarded as living in too states - civilized and uncivilized. The moment he leaves the one and enters the othor be becomes prohibited. In proof of this, the speaker referred to the difference in the dress word by the two sexes; and also to the law of burial, which declare's it shall be done publicly. Society demands this for the general good; otherwise numberless murders might be committed, and the murderer might exceps punishment. Price 75 Cents per Bottle.

Propared, whilesalo and retail, at the Ecceptual MyDic L. Dispensary, Dandus Street, London, C.

Losnov, 15th September, 1855. DR. J. W. KERMOTT. Dieta Sin,-Reing informed that you are preparing your Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam, in order that the public at large may appreciate its virtues, I chearfully submit to you the following statement of facts; use them as you think proper, In the Autumn of 1852 my oldest son was attacked with pain in the cheet, shoulders and eide, accompanied with a very severe cough. We use every means within our power, employed the mas skilful physicions, and after their vain attempts, had recourse to some of the most popular nestrums for the cure of consumption, but all to no purpose, he gradually grow worse, In 1853 he became so feeble and emaciated as to be obliged to keep his bed, his feet and legs became swollen, perspired profusely at nights, expectarated dark fortid corruption, bad chills and fever alternately, in fact all who knew or saw him pronounced him in the last state of consumption, and a victim for the grave. At his own request we sent for you, but without the elightest hope of receiving any benefit, still as you have flattered him livered at the Railroad Depot, Newmarket. with a hope, he commenced using your Bulsant, and after taking rame half dozen bottles, began slowly to recover, till in three months' time he was restored to perfect health. One year has elopsed since the cure was effected, and he is still hale and Ever grateful, I am, dear sir, Yours respectfully, JAMES DICKERSON.

LIST OF J. W. KERMOTT'S MEDICINES,

Vegetable Pulmonary Ralsom, a cafe and a cerain cure for Coughe, Colds, Hourseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, &c.

Compound Extract of Willow, a positive cure for Ague, Chill Fever, and Billions Diseases.

Fluid Extract of Sarsoparlila and Stillingle, the will sell best alterative known for diseases arising from an impure state of the blood. Vegetable Tonic Mixture, a mild yet powerful Tonic in all cases of Debility, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Weakness of the Stomach. . Worm Tea, or Chippawa Indian Worm Killer, an unparalleled Destroyer of Worms.

Compound Mandrake, or Aperient Anti-Billous Pills, the Best purgative new known. These Pills combine power with mildness of action, and in no case produce subsequent constipation.
Black Cintment, or Healing Salve, for the speedy cure of Cuts, Burns, Ulcers, Fever, Sores, &c.

Extract of Blackerry, a Vegetable Summer Com- Delivered at his Steam Grist Mill, near the Railroad plaint Cure, the only certain remedy in Dysentary. Depot. Bloody Flux, Cholera Mothus, Cramps, &c. Rheumatic or Nervo and Bono Liniment, the best external application known for man or beast.

Read the following from M. Anderson, Esq., Mayor of London :

LONDON, Feb, 14, 1855. To Da. KERMOTT DEAR SIR,-Your Vegetable Tonic Mixture, and Mandrako Pills, have had a most salutary effect I was for several years troubled with Dyspepsie, and Indigestion, during which time I tried many remedies, consulted the most popular physicians at home and abroad, but no purpose. Two years since. I tried your Pills and Bitters; they did in my case all they are resonmenced to do; since which time I have enjoyed perfect health.

I would, therefore for the good of the community cheerfully recommend your medicines as all they are represented to be. I am, yours, &c.,

Dr. J. W. KERMOTT.

M. ANDERSON. Mayor of London, C. W.

London, 30th January, 1855.

DEAN Sin,-Permit me to express my heartfelt gratitude to you for the miraculous cure Combs, Stationery, Perfumery, Common Jew- let. To be able to spell correctly the words of an ine from the margin of the grave and restored me to perfect health, contrary to my own expectations, can sufficiently recompense you for having taken house or the Railway Station, Newmarket. to perfect health, contrary to my own expectations, Grammar, so as to paise an easy sentence in contrary to the very laws of nature. I was first taken brose. 3rd to work readily questions in the first four rules physicians called Chronic Bronchitis. Very soon of Arithmetic, Simple and Compound, and they informed me that it had extended to the lungs, that I was a proy to consumption, and leff me without 4th. To be acquainted with the definitions and a hope of recovery. I expectorated corruption, had a constant pain in my chest, perspired profusely at nights, -in short, became so reduced as to be unable to rise from the bed for the period of three months. It was not until we had given up all hopes of recovery that we were persuaded to apply to you, and even then many of my friends were opposed to my taking medicine without any prospect of receiving the least benefit. I commenced, however, taking your Polmonary Balzam, in connection with your Ponic Mixture and Pills, and thankful that I am able to essert to you and the world, that I was restored to perfect health.

These are facts -- appropriate them as you think fit. I would merely suggest that you lay them before the public, that others may have the opportunity of doing likewise. I am, debr sir, most respectfully yould, Ин. Ковиваон.
